Lake County municipalities raise money for youth baseball

By STEVE PETERSON
speterson@nwnewsgr.com

LAKE VILLA - Local police and fire departments had a chance to take a break from flood-related duties and play softball for a good cause recently at the Crosstown Classic.

The event took place Aug. 25 at Lake Villa Baseball Park and featured a baseball ball-drop from a helicopter and eight softball teams. About 200 baseballs were dropped from the helicopter at the fundraiser for area youth baseball.

"With all the rain we've had, it is amazing that we're able to play," tournament director Rich Coles said.

Several groups and individuals were honored for their support of Lake Villa Baseball Park throughout the years. Those honored were the Lindenhurst Civic-Men's and Women's Clubs and Rick Tippet, Dave Harms, and Jay Barner, of Superior Paving. The memory of Luke Lukemeyer also was honored.

"The Lindenhurst Civic Center was sold. The club donated its $40,000 proceeds to us," Coles said. "Superior Paving donated the work on the new pavement at the park. It's a great community event."

"They never forgot [Lukemeyer], and there will be a plaque at the entrance."

Also on hand for the fundraiser was State Rep. JoAnn Osmond, R-Antioch.

"It's all for the kids. We finished fourth last year," Osmond said.

The Osmond Family put together a team in memory of JoAnn's late husband and state representative, Tim Osmond.

Lake Villa Fire-Rescue donated $1,000.

"It's great," said Tom Lippert, of the Lindenhurst Green Wave team. "All the proceeds go to the kids."

Lake Villa Township took home the first-place trophy after a 0-2 record for the Cabosoes.

"It's a great tournament. This is the second year we've won this trophy," Tom Simi, a player for Lake Villa Township said. "We had fun and worked hard. We had more girls than the other teams."

The Lake Villa Baseball and Softball team made a run to the final four teams because of home runs. Mike Burnett hit a grand slam in one game, and Roger Rotundo had a trip around the mound, too.

Before going against the Fox Lake Police, Rotundo commented on his team's preparations for the event.

"We had one practice," he said. "Almost all the coaches and payers are back from last year."

Lake Villa queens Miss Stephanie Correllius, Junior Miss Angellina Della-Peruta and Little Miss Lindsey

"We had an amazing response," Correllius said.

Lindenhurst Green Wave kept its hopes alive with an 11-1 win over the village of Antioch.

"I'm very proud of the whole team," Antioch Village Board President Dorothy Larson said.

"We had a great time," said Antioch staffer Jim Keim after receiving the seventh-place trophy.

Fox Lake Police survived a fight to the finish with an 8-7 win over Lake Villa. Fox Lake Police Chief Mike Behan pitched that game.

"We've got bad news all over the place."

—Antioch Township Supervisor and volunteer for Antioch's rescue squad Steve Smouse, on the recent flooding in Antioch and other areas (See story on 4A)

>> Editor'sChoice

What a long, wet week this has been

It's been a long week for a lot of people.

Once the rain started, it seemed like it would never stop.

Volunteers from local schools, businesses and even the Great Lakes Naval Base jumped at the opportunity to help people in areas that were most severely affected by the flooding.

Emergency personnel were required to step up efforts.

Gov. Rod Blagojevich even showed up in Fox Lake to promise support from the state.

The villages that required attention stretched from the western portion of the county such as Fox Lake and all the way east to villages such as Gurnee. And the Lake County Journals were there to cover all of it.

Staff reporter Steve Peterson did a great job immersing himself into Fox Lake and the surrounding area. He wrote several stories from a variety of angles and showed just how multifaceted the natural disaster was.

We also had good coverage from our photo staff. Our photographers rolled up their pants and waded through water to get visual documentation of what was happening as flood levels rose.

Our videographers and multimedia staff put together some amazing presentations as well, which can be found on our Web site, LakeCountyJournals.com.

That Web site, of course, was a valuable tool for our reporters as the story developed.

While our print edition comes out once a week, the floods exemplified how we function as a daily paper, providing updates and new information sometimes on an hourly basis.

And the story is not over yet. Villages and individuals will spend a good deal of time recovering and rebuilding now that the waters have receded. We'll cover that angle, too, of course.

Let me know what you thought of our flood coverage by e-mailing me at mpera@nwnewsgroup.com.

Thanks for reading the Journal, in print and online.

Reaching new heights

Classic cars added to Waukegan Air Show

By JESSICA JACOBSEN
jjacobsen@nwnewsgroup.com

WAUKEGAN - Many people recently flocked to Chicago for its Air and Water Show, but if they didn't get enough of those high-flying tricks, there is another option in Lake County.

From 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sept. 8, Waukegan Regional Airport, at 3580 N. McAree Road, will be home to the sixth annual Waukegan Air Show. An added bonus to this free show will be a classic cars exhibit, said Jim Stanczak, Waukegan Regional Airport manager. Stanczak said that adding the antique cars was a side feature to broaden the show.

The feature flights, however, might grab a little more attention.

What's that in the sky?

What: Sixth annual Waukegan Air Show
When: 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sept. 8
Where: Waukegan Airport, 3580 N. McAree Road in Waukegan
Aerial show: 1 to 3:30 p.m.

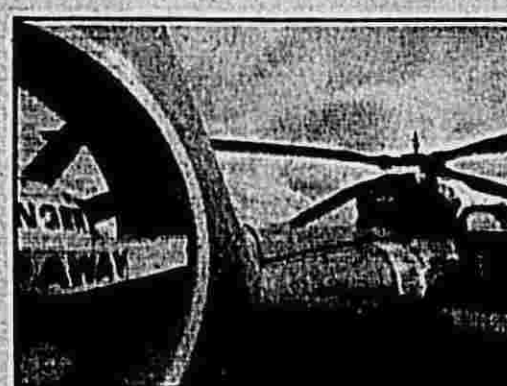

"It's going to be a nice display of aircrafts," Stanczak said.

The aerial portion of the show is set to begin at 1 p.m. and will feature returning acts such as the T-28 Trojan Horsemen and the L-39 Hoppers, which perform high-energy aerobic routines.

Stanczak said the Waukegan Air Show does more than just entertain patrons.

"It exposes the local community to the airport," he said.

The number of attendees continues to grow each year, Stanczak said, so he expects about 15,000 people to come to this year's show. And that is a good thing for the Boys and Girls Club of Lake County because any leftover profits will be given to the organization.

"This is something new," Stanczak said about donating to the club.

For the time being, an intern and freelancers will cover my old stomping grounds.

If you have any questions, send them to Matt Pera, our news editor. He can be reached at mpera@nwnewsgroup.com.

Thanks for letting me cover your communities for nearly two years; I'll always look back fondly on this time. OK, before I start getting teary-eyed, here's some news:

Residents will probably notice a new traffic light at the intersection of Sand Lake Road and Beck Road. The Lake County Division of Transportation turned on the device last week.

Officials hope the new signal will keep B.J. Hooper students safer when they cross the two roads.

You like music, food, and games, right?

Then you better go to the Lakeside Festival that St. Peter Parish will host from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 8, at Turtle Beach Marina, 42273 Woodbine Ave. in Antioch.

The event serves as a fundraiser for the Antioch church.

Keeping heads above waters

Antioch copes with the effects of recent flooding

By TARA CLIFTON
tclifton@nwnewsgroup.com

ANTIOCH – Just like many other northern Lake County towns, Antioch has spent the last week-and-a-half trying to keep its head above flood waters.

Rescue crews have been canvassing the village and township where heavy rainfall has caused flooding.

"We've got bad news all over the place," said Steve Smouse, Antioch Township Supervisor and a volunteer for the village's rescue squad.

Smouse said that Antioch had received 17.96 inches of rain in August so far.

Usually that number hovers near 4.5 inches.

Two of the hardest-hit areas were the Fox River Bridge and Fox River Springs subdivision, Smouse said.

In a press release, Antioch's Director of Emergency Management, Lee

Shannon, urged residents to pay attention to radio and television weather reports.

Inside homes, furnaces and water heaters should be kept above water level, as well as electrical systems and components.

Those with piers and boats should make sure both are tied down properly.

In case an emergency, the Emergency Management Department can be reached at (847) 395-9462.

Antioch Township to get alert sirens

By TARA CLIFTON
tclifton@nwnewsgroup.com

ANTIOCH TOWNSHIP – About four years after he started saving money, Steve Smouse is seeing the fruits of his efforts.

Smouse, Antioch Township supervisor, said he has used parts of township and civil defense funds to pay for three sirens that have been installed throughout the township.

The sirens, mounted on telephone poles, will sound during weather and civil defense emergencies, and also during monthly tests, Smouse said.

The new sirens are at the Antioch Township office, 1625 Deep Lake Road in Lake Villa, Emmons School, and Grass Lake School.

The monthly tests will be at 10 a.m. on the first Tuesday of each month starting in September, Smouse said.

Before these three sirens were installed, the only other alert siren was on top of the water tower on Toft Avenue, which was difficult for those in the village to hear, much less township residents, Smouse said.

Smouse said he applied for grants to pay for the three new sirens, but was denied. The cost for all three sirens is a little less than $100,000.

Smouse said he hopes to eventually install two more sirens, one near the Grass Lake bridge and one by Channel Lake.

When used for actual emergencies, the sirens will sound, and then an audio recording will tell residents what type of emergency is happening and what they can do to protect themselves, Smouse said.

During tests, only an audio message will play.

"Hopefully this will minimize the number of phone calls to 911 during bad weather," Smouse said.

Lehmann Mansion considered for horror film

By TARA CLIFTON
tclifton@nwnewsgroup.com

LAKE VILLA – Lehmann Mansion could have a spooky look to it.

FIRM Production Services in Elk Grove Village has approached village and Lehmann Mansion officials about shooting a horror movie at the historical Lake Villa landmark.

"They wanted to get that mansion look," said Eddie Bauer, a spokesperson for the mansion. "But it's not definite yet."

Bauer said FIRM representatives talked to Lehmann heads about using the mansion, its basement, and the grounds for an upcoming PG-13 thriller.

FIRM could not be reached for comment.

Bauer said that the film won't have any nudity, violence, or anything else too inappropriate because the village and Lehmann officials wouldn't allow it.

"They can only do so much," Bauer said.

Village President Frank Loffredo said that he and the Village Board think that the

Frank Loffredo

”filming could be a great opportunity for Lake Villa.”

"It's a great location," Loffredo said. "Those stately buildings have an aura about them."

Bauer and Loffredo said that all the production company needs is liability insurance and funding to get the movie started.

Bauer said that if FIRM decides to use Lehmann Mansion, the studio plans to begin filming at the end of October and through all of November.

"They're nice people and they just wanted to keep it local," Bauer said.

"This company is working around our schedule," he said.

County looking for Web site feedback

Lake County wants to know how it can improve its Web site, www.co.lake.il.us. Residents can participate in an opportunity to help shape the future of the Web site and make it easier for customers to perform government functions from home.

Anyone interested in participating in a focus group can e-mail Lake County Communications at communications@co.lake.il.us.

Participants are asked to commit no more than 2 hours of their time, according to a release from the county, and will participate in a group question-and-answer session.

The sessions will take place in early September, and there will be day and evening sessions available.

Participants will receive a thank you gift for volunteering their time, according to the release.

Resource fair aids social workers

The Mothers Trust Foundation, along with the Lake County Regional Office of Education and the Special Education District of Lake County hosted a Resource Fair Aug. 23 at Allendale's Bradley Counseling Center in Lake Villa.

The event exposed school social workers and counselors to the child-focused services available in Lake County, according to a news release.

The goal was to encourage collaboration among service providers and expand use of services available to children and families.

There were 125 people at the presentations from representatives of 25 Lake County social agencies.

The Mothers Trust Foundation is a small but vital part of the community providing services to children in Lake County. Its goal is to fill the gaps in social services for children by doing what others cannot.

FOX LAKE - Village officials estimated that 15,000 sandbags were used and that bags continued to be delivered to residents on flooded streets on Aug. 26, eight days after the rains started.

Antioch Village President Dorothy Larson said she plans to sign a declaration that will start the process of recouping flood-control expenses.

Also, state Rep. JoAnn Osmond, R-Antioch, responding to neighborhood concerns, said she tried to get answers about why the Chain O' Lakes still was open to no wake. Both the lower and upper sections of the Fox River remained closed Aug. 26, although the weekend was the start of an expected dry time.

"The Lake County Sheriff's Department and Bud Scott, of the Fox Waterway Agency, were very supportive," Osmond said.

In Gurnee, Patrick Muetz, assistant to the village administrator, said the village "dodged a bullet," by avoiding much of the heavy rain that hit the area Aug. 23. The Des Plaines river was expected to crest an estimated 9.8 feet.

Gurnee residents were able to pick up sandbags at Heroes of Freedom Park and Warren Township High School's O'Plaine Campus.

Grant Community High School students pitched in during the Fox Lake sandbagging effort at the street department.

During a visit Aug. 24 to Fox Lake, Gov. Rod Blagojevich declared the counties of Lake, McHenry, Cook, and DuPage to be disaster areas.

"Someday, these kids will be able to tell their kids about when it rained and rained," he said. "We're here to provide as much help to Fox Lake and all the other affected areas [as possible]."

Officials urged residents to stay away from flood water.

Blagojevich said people should use caution in still-dangerous floodwaters. The governor said conservation police from the Illinois Department of Natural Resources have responded to dozens of assistance calls the past two days after people, particularly children and young adults, found themselves in danger after entering floodwaters.

"It is important for people to remain extremely cautious and to realize that it's not safe for anyone, particularly children, to attempt to play in flood waters," Blagojevich said in a release.

IDNR conservation officers reported instances of people entering flooded creeks and rivers with pool flotation devices and quickly being swept into dangerous situations. So far, no deaths have been reported from these instances, but conservation officers are busy responding to calls for help.

According to the National Weather Service, flooding is the No. 1 severe-weather killer nationwide. Most flood-related deaths involve people in cars trying to cross flooded roadways or children playing in floodwaters, which can have strong currents that aren't always obvious from the surface. Debris carried by floodwaters also increases risk of injury for anyone in the water.

Tax time

Residents' real estate taxes due Sept. 6

LAKE COUNTY JOURNALS

Second installment of real estate taxes from Lake County residents is due Thursday, Sept. 6. Residents will not receive a bill in the mail.

Payments should be U.S. postmarked by the Sept. 6 deadline. Lake County Treasurer Robert Skidmore is reminding taxpayers of the due date so they can avoid paying late charges, according to a release from the treasurer's office.

Taxpayers received a bill for both installments prior to the first due date.

Payment options include payment through U.S. mail, in person at most Lake County banks and in person at the Lake County Treasurer's Office, 18 N. County St., Waukegan. Those paying at a bank must have the original or a copy of their tax bill.

Taxpayers also can pay online by credit card or e-check at www.co.lake.il.us/treasurer.

There is a convenience fee charged by the processing company for those paying online. E-check has a flat fee of $1.40 for each pin number, with a maximum of $25,000 a transaction.

Two drop-boxes also are available 24-hours a day, seven days a week for property tax payments. Those using either of the drop-boxes must pay through check and should include their tax bill stub in a sealed envelope.

One drop-box is at the northeast entrance of the Lake County Courthouse and Administrative Complex in Waukegan. The second drop-box is at the Lake County Division of Transportation, 600 W. Winchester Road in Libertyville, a half block west of Milwaukee Avenue.

"The treasurer's office typically experiences long lines close to the property tax due date, so I encourage taxpayers to take advantage of one of the alternative payment methods," Skidmore said in a statement. "Payments must be made or postmarked before Sept. 6 in order to avoid paying penalties."

The treasurer's office will have added hours from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday, Sept. 1, and from 8:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 6. Regular office hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

One sweet opening

Sweet Tomatoes
opens in Waukegan

By JESSICA JACOBSEN
jjacobsen@nwnewsgroup.com

WAUKEGAN — Looking at the crowd who gathered Aug. 24 outside Sweet Tomatoes in Waukegan on Aug. 24, people might have thought there was a celebrity sighting. But it actually was a preview event for the all-you-can-eat soup and salad restaurant that did a little bit more than just offer food that day.

From 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and from 5 to 7 p.m. the newest Sweet Tomatoes, at 850 S. Waukegan Road, had a preview event to give the community a taste of what it has to offer, and give a little back to the area.

Jen Olsen, general manager for the Waukegan restaurant, said all the proceeds collected that day went to A Safe Place, a program that provides assistance to victims of domestic violence.

"I think it's just an amazing organization," Olsen said. "I think it's really important to help women in those situations."

From the looks of things, Sweet Tomatoes will have a decent amount of money to donate to A Safe Place.

By 11:30 a.m., almost every table was filled and more people continued to trickle inside. "I'm so happy with the turnout," Olsen said. "We opened the doors, and there's people wrapped around outside in the parking lot."

D.J. Albert, of Park City, was on hand for the preview event and was pleased when he heard the proceeds would be going to A Safe Place.

"I think that's good that they're using it for charity," Albert said. "I think it's a step in the right direction."

Jim Walsh, Sweet Tomatoes vice president of Operations-East Coast, also was there for the charitable event.

Walsh said the preview that Olsen set up was beneficial to both the community and Sweet Tomatoes.

"It's a great experience of training and introducing ourselves to the community,"

Walsh went on to praise Olsen for her efforts in planning the event, but Olsen was humble about her involvement.

"I helped orchestrate," Olsen said. "There's so many other people [involved]."

Olsen has been with Sweet

Tomatoes for 11 years but said this is the first time she has been general manager of a new store, and she is excited to be in Waukegan.

"I think it's a great location," she said. "I hope that we're helping give Waukegan some more options and more choices."

The all-you-can-eat soup, salad and bakery restaurant had its official opening Aug. 27.

Rising waters wreak havoc

Rain, rain, go away. August has been a soggy month, with thunderstorms occurring on a seemingly daily basis. The result has been rising waters along the Fox River and flash floods. Algonquin has been one of the hardest-hit areas. Police asked about 70 homeowners to evacuate Aug. 24.

Illinois Gov. Rod Blagojevich toured storm- and flood-ravaged areas and declared Lake, McHenry, Kane and Cook counties disaster areas.

The declaration means that Blagojevich will ask the federal government to declare those counties disaster areas. If that happens, then federal aid money will become available. Although the federal designation is not a sure thing, it never hurts to ask.

Before people get their hopes too high about the prospect of federal money, they should remember that some damage, such as flooded basements, might not qualify for federal dollars. Those sort of issues will be sorted out if and when a federal declaration comes. Still, the decision by Blagojevich was a good one. Blagojevich's request begins the process.

Certainly many people have suffered wind damage, lightning strikes, and flooded homes. Also, municipalities should, if the federal government acts, be able to seek aid to fix any damaged infrastructure.

Extreme weather, which has plagued northern Illinois in August, quickly can overwhelm the resources of smaller communities. For the past 30 days, the National Weather Service reported that most of McHenry County received between 10 and 15 inches of rain, far above the normal amount of rain expected for August. The result of all that water has been flooding: flooded basements, flooded homes, flooded roads.

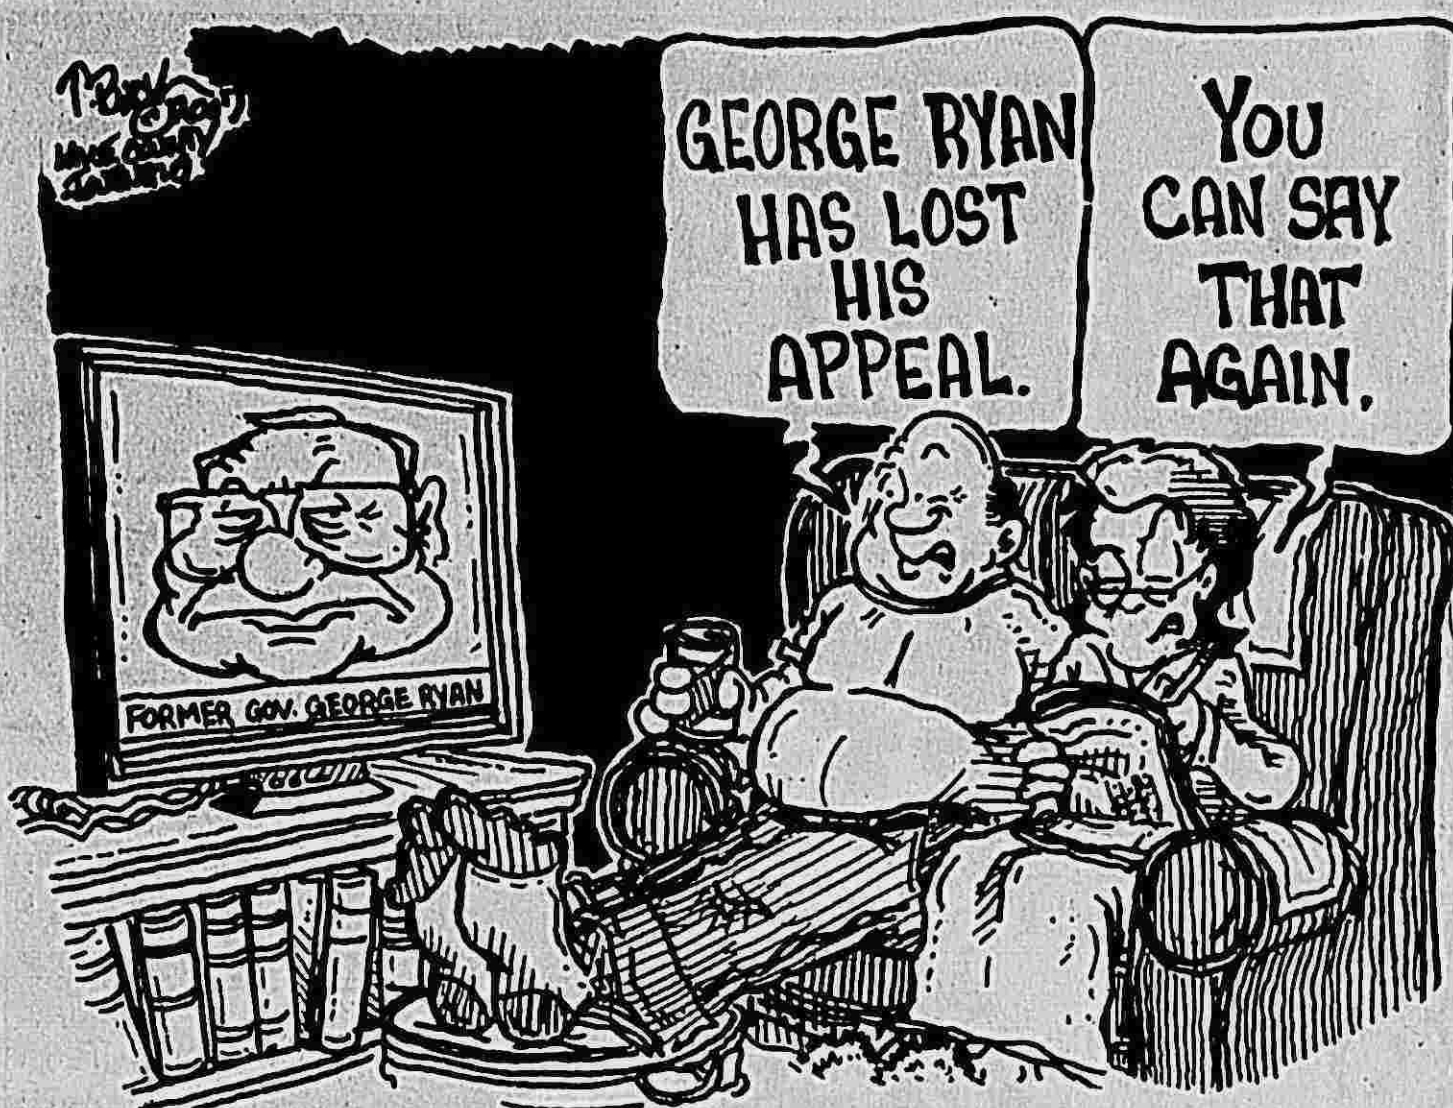

And the Fox River is not the only waterway that has swelled. Sandbagging efforts occurred throughout the Chicago suburbs. Pretty much anyone who lived near water had to heed the possibility that more rain could result in a catastrophe.

Still, there is some good news, particularly in McHenry County.

Barry Valentine, of the McHenry County Emergency Management Agency, said that although the Fox River was high, it has been much higher before. Also, Valentine said, the Nippersink Creek, which feeds into the Fox River, had crested and started coming down. Also, as of Aug. 25, Valentine said that the Fox River had crested in New Munster, Wis.

That's good news for those of us downriver.

Force of nature

To the Editor:

In the 1970s, my hometown of Canton was destroyed by a tornado. My family, our dog and I took refuge in our basement. We were very lucky to escape unharmed with very little damage to our property. The heart of the town was not so lucky.

Witnessing the destruction that occurred in a matter of minutes is an experience I will never forget. Friends and neighbors worked together to rebuild the town, but it never was the same as we remembered it.

The beautiful shady avenues of elms were gone for good and never could be replaced. Mother Nature can perform her own terrorist attacks on our country in the form of hurricanes, tornadoes, earthquakes, and floods. Her fury cannot be controlled by mankind.

After such disasters, the president and governor visit the site of destruction and offer sympathy and promises of aid to victims - talk, talk, talk.

Mother Nature in all her fury is capable of leaving a path of destruction that can make our country look like a war zone.

Perhaps we need to focus more on rebuilding and restoring the destruction that occurs on our own soil, than on trying to solve the problems of other countries.

An accident waiting to happen

To the Editor:

I would like to urge action to be taken to reconstruct the intersection of Grand Avenue and Linden/Granada in Lindenhurst. According to the Lindenhurst Police Department, there have been 26 accidents at that intersection during the last year. A family member of mine was involved in an accident at that intersection in April. Recently, my husband witnessed an accident at that intersection that we suspect resulted in the fatality of a motorcycle rider.

Our hearts and prayers go out to the family of the motorcycle rider and to the young person who was involved in the accident. It is heartbreaking to imagine what they must be going through.

I felt strongly compelled to write this letter to the editor to ask that the community take swift action to

Kirk announces student, teacher safety legislation

At Stevenson High School in Lincolnshire, 10th Congressional District, U.S. Rep. Mark Kirk, R-Highland Park, along with members* of his Education Advisory Board and teachers from the area announced that legislation will be put in place to help educators better protect students from dangerous weapons in schools.

The Student and Teacher Safety Act of 2007 (H.R. 3291) will permit teachers and administrators to lawfully conduct searches for weapons, drugs or other dangerous materials if there is a reasonable threat to other students or teachers.

"During the past 10 years, more than 30 school shootings took place throughout the United States," Kirk said in a statement. "Two years ago, 38 guns were confiscated in Illinois schools. The best way to ensure that schools are safe for our children is to take guns out of the classroom."

"The Student and Teacher Safety Act gives teachers and administrators the legal framework to search for weapons and drugs if there is a reasonable threat to safety. We should provide every resource to our teachers to keep schools free from gun violence."

The U.S. Department of Education's National Center for Education Statistics reported in its 2005 Indicators of School Crime and Safety that in 2003, 17 percent of students in grades nine through 12 reported they carried a weapon, according to a release from Kirk's office.

Manager wanted

Island Lake trustees renewed an effort to have a village manager hired.

Trustee Don Saville suggested the measures be authorized at an Aug. 2 committee meeting.

"I think that a village manager is a good idea," Saville said. "This is a dangerous game that we're playing. We all have a heck of a lot of responsibility here. I would take it on. I think that it would be money well spent."

Trustees Fran Sadoski and John Ponia also said they liked the idea of having a village manager.

Island Lake has not had a village manager in recent years, but runs daily operations through department heads. Supporters said a village manager would assist their amount of time used for village business and would be able to present options.

Fox Lake operates without a designated administrator, similar to how Island Lake operates.

Lakewood site not best for Summer Olympics

A few weeks ago, Mary Walton, a volunteer at the Warren Township Library and a longtime environmental activist, asked me whether I had read her recent letter to the editor. I answered, "Yes, Mary, and keep up the good work."

Mary's letter was in opposition to the recent proposal to use 300 acres of the Lakewood Forest Preserve in Wauconda for equestrian activities at the 2016 Summer Olympics. The letter was one of many that I have read, and most have taken the same position to plead that a more suitable location be found for the equestrian phase of the Olympic competition.

When I first heard about the forest preserve district's unanimous decision to use the Lakewood Forest Preserve for the event, I thought, "Wow, this came so suddenly out of the blue, couldn't they have found somewhere else besides forest preserve land?"

The Forest Preserve Board of Commissioners made the quick decision to go along with the proposal two weeks after anyone in the public had even heard about it. It seemed to me that an issue that could have many future ramifications on open space and conservation should have had public hearings before board action was taken.

In her letter, Mary Walton said that she had never read of the mission statement of the Lake County Forest Preserve District.

John S.
Matijevich

Nevertheless, she gave her own version of what that mission should be. Mary, you couldn't have done better.

Her mission statement read, "The mission of the Lake County Forest Preserve District is to buy, preserve, and protect open lands, woods, lakes, wetlands, and wildlife for the purpose of enjoyment of all of the people of Lake County. The preserves shall be available to all and shall be restricted from commercial use by companies and organizations."

For years, in this column, when I thought that the district had veered from its intended goals, I cited the original mission when the district was founded. Also, I suggested that each commissioner might have a copy of such a statement to always remind them of those public responsibilities. Mary's mission statement would serve that purpose.

I think that Tom Hahn, executive director of the district, has been the most dedicated director to pursue that mission. Yet, I think that in this case, he and the board were wrong.

Hahn said that as long as he was at the district, preservation would be first, and the decision to select Lakewood was as nonintrusive as possible. But the selection of Lakewood for the equestrian activities was an intrusion, an encroachment on public properties and its intended uses.

The proponents that we will gain is a permanent 15,000-seat stadium, if the Lakewood site were approved. Can you imagine the future demands on the district to hold events if such a stadium were made available?

We don't need a 15,000-seat stadium anywhere in the Lake County Forest Preserve District, whether it's free or not.

The simple truth is that there are other alternatives to have equestrian activities if the decision to have the 2016 Summer Olympics in the Chicago area is approved. The promises made to the Lake County Forest Preserve District don't meet the test of worthiness if you really believe in the true mission of the district.

Fairgrounds going out in style

Chevelle bassist Dean Bernardini interacts with the crowd during AugustFest on Aug. 25 at the Lake County Fairgrounds in Grayslake. Along with Chevelle, bands Saliva, Crossfade, Shinedown and PreZence performed during AugustFest.

Local band Chevelle headlines AugustFest

This is the last year the Lake County Fairgrounds will be at Routes 45 and 120 in Grayslake, and the grounds certainly seem to be going out with a bang.

The county fair has come and gone, but the fairgrounds were covered with cups, water bottles and people Aug. 25 as residents gathered to enjoy a night of music during the fairground's first-ever AugustFest.

Headlining the concert was Grayslake's own Chevelle, a self-described "hard rock, erotic" band. Chevelle, which consists of brothers Peter and Sam Loeffler and their brother-in-law Dean Bernardini is gearing up for a tour that, Sam said, will go through mid-November.

"We're ready to go," Dean said.

Chevelle is touring in part to promote its latest album, "Vena Sera," which was released in April. Sam said the sound and feel of "Vena Sera" is different from the band's past albums because it was recorded in Las Vegas.

"We were in Vegas, so the record has a vacation sort of vibe," he said. "It didn't really affect the structure of the music, but I'd say it affected the lyrics."

Peter agreed, adding that the lyrics of "The Fad" were based on the mood and atmosphere of Vegas.

"A lot of the lyrics were written in our hotel room," he said. "You'd look out the window and see all the lights. I noticed that when you're standing in line at a club, people all look the same with the same shirt that has glitter on it, and that's what inspired the lyrics of that song."

But recording in Vegas isn't the only thing that makes the band stand out, Sam said.

"It's our dedication to our music," he said. "We're a straight-up rock band, and we don't use a lot of gimmicks. We write music we love to play."

Chevelle doesn't need gimmicks. The band's music speaks for itself with powerful vocals, lyrics filled with raw emotion and a pulsating beat. For the first time ever, the band shared that music with a hometown crowd at AugustFest.

"It's creepy," Peter said about being back in Grayslake. "We've never performed here before."

But the crowd couldn't wait to see its hometown rock stars.

"I've been waiting weeks for this," said Nick Class, 23, of Wildwood. "It's time to party. It's been my No. 1 priority all summer."

Splattered head-to-toe with mud, and dressed in a tank top and jean shorts torn from jumping into a mosh pit, Class seemed to exemplify the spirit of AugustFest.

"They've never done anything like this at the fairgrounds, and just look at the outcome," Class said, as he pointed to the thousands of concertgoers.

Arthur Mercado, 25, of Grayslake, agreed that AugustFest was an amazing event.

"It's like a mini-Woodstock right here," he said.

As fireworks announced the arrival of Chevelle on stage, Class and Mercado joined the crowd in pumping their fists and bobbing their heads to the beat of the band's opening number, "Antisaint."

Throughout the concert, the band ducked as the enthusiastic crowd threw water bottles, beach balls and cups at the stage.

At one point, Peter jokingly said to the audience, "All right. On the count of three, everyone throw everything you've got on stage, and let's get it out of your system."

A wave of bottles, clothing and cups flew at the band, who smiled as they hid behind their guitars. Getting back on their feet, Chevelle performed its 2002 hit "The Red," a ballad with impressive dynamics and strong lyrics such as "So lay down, the threat is real. Seeing red again."

While some bands take long, awkward breaks between songs during concerts, Chevelle played continuously with aggressive energy and heart-pounding intensity that slowed only while the band members tuned their guitars.

As the band finished what appeared to be its last song, the audience screamed, "One more song," and Chevelle came running back on stage to play two more numbers, including "Send the Pain Below," which many crowd members sang word-for-word. After their last song, the band members threw guitar picks and drum sticks into the crowd.

One lucky concertgoer who caught a pick was Kayla Squires, of Union Grove, Wis. Squires came to AugustFest with her friend Rachael Slater, also of Union Grove, Wis. The two were up against the barrier in front of the stage, leaning over to get close to the band.

"We made our way up front," Squires said with a laugh. "I really liked Saliva, and I love Chevelle. It was a great concert."

Park Street thanks diners

Park Street

Many restaurant owners are thankful for their customers, but few create a night just to show their appreciation.

But that is exactly what Nic Lindsey, executive chef and manager of Park Street restaurant in Mundelein, has done for the past three years. Each year, Lindsey hosts a customer appreciation night for patrons, and this year's event was on Aug. 30.

"It started as just a luau, and then it grew," Lindsey said. "We saw the same faces, and people were dressing up, so I said, 'Why don't we make it a customer appreciation night?' It's a night where we drop our prices to almost nothing."

The decor of Park Street inspired another program the restaurant is involved with, Lindsey said. Park Street has sandy-colored exposed brick walls, some of which are engraved with the restaurant's name. Lindsey said the walls gave him the idea to let customers leave their mark on Park Street by having their names engraved on a brick. A brick costs $150, and $125 goes to one of five shelters: Save-A-Pet, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 7191, Mundelein District 75 Educational Foundation, Mundelein Senior Center, and the Lake County YWCA.

The care Lindsey shows to his customers and to the community extends to his food as well.

One appetizer the restaurant offers is chilled tomato and cucumber brushchetta, which comes overflowing with parmesan cheese and tomatoes and has a delicious basil and tomato flavor.

For an entree, Lindsey recommends Park Street's pretzel crusted pork chops, a house special. The pork chops are drizzled with a light buttery sauce and pieces of pretzel that add a subtle, juicy flavor.

Another twist on the menu is the restaurant's homemade calzones, which allow diners to choose from a variety of ingredients.

For dessert, Lindsey prepares several items, including cheesecake with a raspberry sauce. The cheesecake is moist and creamy, and the sauce is sweet and tastes like you're biting into fresh fruit.

While enjoying the tasty menu items, diners can relax in the calm and casual atmosphere of Park Street. Filled with rose-colored chairs, warm lighting, and shelves lined with antique books, the decor of the restaurant creates a soothing place for customers to escape - if only for a meal.

Christopher Walken stars in "Balls of Fury," a new comedy that spoofs martial arts films.

'Balls of Fury' a flurry of laughter

Creative comics focus on old films about martial arts

By JEFFREY WESTHOFF
sidetracks@nwnewsgroup.com

From "Knocked Up" to "Superbad" to "Balls of Fury," this has been a good season for lowbrow comedy.

"Fury" isn't in the same league of hilarity as the two earlier films, nor does it ultimately turn into a sweet examination of relationships.

"Fury" is a parody, but a funny one and much more clever than the repetitive "Scary Movie," "Date Movie," "Epic Movie" cycle.

Written by the "Reno 911" team of Thomas Lennon and Robert Ben Garant, and directed by Garant, "Fury" spoofs old martial arts movies, specifically "Enter the Dragon."

The central joke is the substitution of pingpong for kung fu.

Chubby Dan Fogler, a Tony Award winner for "The 25th Annual Putnam County Spelling Bee," plays the Bruce Lee role.

The FBI asks his character, former table-tennis champion Randy Daytona, to infiltrate the elite underground pingpong tournament that master criminal Feng (Christopher Walken) hosts at his secret lair.

Randy was once a 12-year-old phenom who quit competing after a humiliating loss to the East German player (Lennon) at the 1988 Olympics.

FBI agent Rodriguez (George Lopez) finds the adult Randy performing a pingpong novelty act in Reno.

Rodriguez hauls Randy to Chinatown to have his skills sharpened by blind Master Wong (James Hong) and his sexy niece Maggie (Maggie Q). Beginning the lessons, Master Wong declares, "Pingpong is not the Macarena."

The training segment takes up as much time as the tournament, which seems to be a miscalculation for Lennon and Garant, but parodies like this don't hinge on screenplay structure; they hinge on laughs, and "Fury" has a bounty of them.

Many of the jokes play off martial arts movie clichés. A few jokes are so specific to "Enter the Dragon," they seem tossed in as Easter eggs for Bruce Lee fans.

Those who don't know Bruce Lee from Jackie Chan will find plenty of other things to laugh at such as Randy's devotion to Def Leppard.

The supporting cast features a tag team of funny actors: David Koechner, Patton Oswalt, Terry Crews and Diedrich Bader. As an in-joke, Jason Scott Lee, star of the Bruce Lee biography "Dragon," plays a Chinatown thug.

Fogler has a relaxed comic style and brings humor out of subtle hand gestures as he plays an overweight, over-the-hill pingpong champ.

For the comedy's designated straight man, he gets a good amount of laughs himself.

Nobody gets more laughs than Walken as the Asian crime lord with a Queens accent. Dressed like Elvis in a production of "The Mikado," Walken luxuriates every ridiculous bit of dialogue. No one will ever say, "Okey dokey artichoke" with such panache.

"Balls of Fury" offers a loose string very much in the spirit of the original "Airplane!" Despite its tacky title and PG-13 rating, the humor is far less crude than today's norm. It is a relief to see a comedy where 70 percent of the jokes don't rely on bodily fluids.

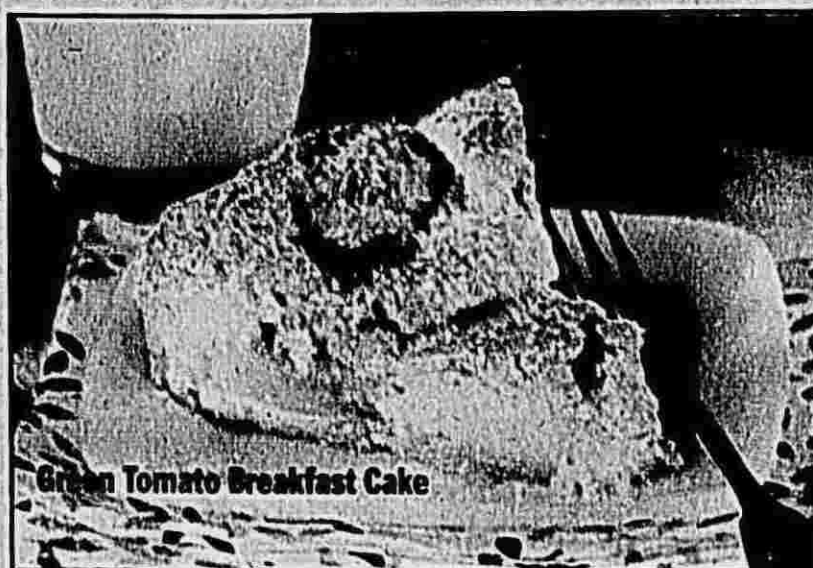

With a steady supply of jokes, "Balls of Fury" is a good-natured, easy-to-take goof.

Cake for breakfast

By JEAN KRESSY
editorial@relishmag.com

There is a limit to the number of fried green tomatoes we can eat and the number of jars of green tomato relish we can fill, so when faced with a basket of green tomatoes, we decided to do a little culinary improvisation.

As any home gardener knows, green tomatoes are firm, unripened tomatoes that are picked in the fall before the first frost. New Englanders, known for their frugality, will do anything to avoid waste. Before tossing green tomatoes onto the compost, they will try to figure out a way to make them ripen.

One of their suggestions, which we tried, was hanging the vines upside-down in the cellar. It sounded reasonable enough until we realized that tomatoes, ripe or not, eventually soften and fall off the vine, which is exactly what happened to us.

Next, we tried wrapping the tomatoes individually in newspaper and putting them in the refrigerator to ripen. Before we knew it, the refrigerator was so filled with tomatoes, which incidentally never ripened, there was no room for anything else. We were left where we started, with a basket of green tomatoes.

One of our best green tomato recipes is a kuchen-like version of a plum tart. It's filled with green tomato wedges and is a cross between a dessert cake and a coffee cake.

We call it a breakfast cake. If anyone offered us a cup of coffee and a piece of green tomato cake, we wouldn't hesitate to take it.

Green Tomato Breakfast Cake (Serves 8)

Ingredients

Nonstick cooking spray
1/3 cup butter, softened
1 cup sugar
2 large eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/8 teaspoon salt
2 green tomatoes, cored and cut into eighths
2 teaspoons turbinado or granulated sugar
1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon

Directions

Preheat oven to 350 degrees Fahrenheit. Spray a 9-inch round cake pan or baking dish with oil.

Cream butter and sugar. When slightly fluffy, beat in eggs and vanilla.

Combine flour, baking powder and salt, and sift into the creamed butter mixture; beat well. Spoon batter into prepared pan. Arrange green tomato pieces in concentric circles over batter. Sprinkle lightly with sugar and cinnamon.

Bake 50 minutes to 1 hour, or until cake is firm and golden and tests done.

Food and fun at Sharky's Billiards and Sports Bar

By LESLIE GLAZIER-WERNER
lesonlife@sbcglobal.net

Sharky's believes in doing things in a big way. For one, the establishment boasts two full bars and seating capacity in the hundreds. Add to that 14 TV's, 7 pool tables, Baggo bean bag toss, 2 dart boards, arcade games, and the 24 lane Lakes Bowl and the whole family can enjoy a visit.

But that's just the beginning of the fun. Sharky's has fall pool and dart leagues now forming, in addition to bowling leagues at Lakes Bowl. There's even a kids bowling league on Saturday mornings.

Football fans will enjoy watching the NFL Sunday ticket on Sharky's plasma TV wall in the newly remodeled lounge. And while you're there, take advantage of the Sunday special: a 16-inch sausage or pepperoni pizza and a domestic pitcher for only $16.00, along with free pool and Baggo.

Then there's the live entertainment, like "Flashback Fridays" every Friday night from 10:00 p.m. to 3:00 a.m. Dance, sing, and listen to all your favorite hits from the '70s, '80s, and '90s. On Saturday night try your hand at karaoke, or just enjoy the DJ.

Once you work up an appetite, Sharky's also offers a tasty menu, including its homemade pizza. Sharky's has a varied selection of reasonably priced appetizers, such as battered mushrooms for $4.00 or their new flavored chicken wings for $5.00. In addition, Sharky's offers items for the heartier appetite. I ordered their 7 pound hamburger, which came piled high with lettuce, tomato, and onions and a generous helping of fries, all for $5.25.

Owner Joe Piagentini reiterated that Sharky's and Lakes Bowl, opened by his parents 39 years ago, is a good value for family entertainment. He said the business is family run and "they are hands on and always around to talk with you." No question, Joe and his family have great food and family fun down pat.

Starting off with a bang

Last week, football season kick offs came and went, and it seems that the athletic directors knew a thing or two about scheduling. As evidenced by a season's worth of football classics all packed into one weekend.

Out of the nine games that affected the Lake County Journals' 11 teams, six of them were decided by a touchdown or less.

Check out some of the scores from these games:

Grant 28, Johnsburg 21
Lakes 28, Grayslake North 27
Libertyville 13, Barrington 6
Mundelein 16, Buffalo Grove 13
New Trier 20, Warren 13
Westosha Central 20, Round Lake 16

Breaking out the old calculator, we find that the average winning margin was only 4.8 points. That, my friends, makes for one H-E-double hockey sticks of a football weekend. But even the ones that were decided by a full touchdown went right down to the wire.

Grant's 28-21 win over Johnsburg was decided by a rushing touchdown by Bulldog quarterback Pavel Zurkowski with 4.3 seconds left on the clock. New Trier escaped Warren courtesy of an early 95-yard punt return that turned out to be the difference in the game. Libertyville's win came with a touchdown with just more than four minutes left in the game.

And the game of the week? Lakes' 28-27 win over Grayslake North was the kind of game that you write cheesy Hoosiers/Griffin Gang movies about – but without the drunken assistant coaches and juvenile delinquents.

The Lakes/Grayslake North game was a see-sawing battle that most kids dream about, let alone carry out. If you weren't there, or don't have the time to read my story about the game, the truncated version of the game has each team answering each other touchdown-for-touchdown before a spectacular field goal block to preserve the one-point Lakes win. In other words, the Eagles escaped by the spikes on their cleats.

Such great football almost gets me even more excited about this week. After all, we've got the battle of the titans between Carmel and Libertyville this Friday.

So I'll say it again: What a week of football and I can't wait for the next one.

• Daniel J. Patrick is the sports editor for the Lake County Journals. Write to him at dpatrick@nwnewsgroup.com.

First win evades Knights once again

Lakes senior blocks field goal for win

By DANIEL J. PATRICK
dpatrick@nwnewsgroup.com

GRAYSLAKE – It seems that the Knights' monkey on their backs is safe for one more week – but this time, it barely escaped with its life.

Grayslake North fought hard in a see-sawing battle with nearby rival Lakes but fell short in a 28-27 loss. Despite an offense that put up 418 yards, including 329 on the ground, the Knights are still looking for their first win in school history.

Even with 1:08 left on the clock, the Knights refused to be intimidated. Led by quarterback Nick Harrington, Grayslake North marched down the field for 64 yards down to Lakes' 12-yard line.

With 6 seconds left on the clock, Knight kicker Brandon Schroth lined up for the 26-yard field goal. But as the ball was snapped, Lakes senior Marcus Williams broke through the line and blocked the field goal to preserve Lakes' fragile lead and give the Eagles the win.

"It hit me in the middle of my chest and it was just great timing," Williams said of the errant kick.

Williams' block in the chest was a kick in the chest for the Knights as Grayslake North had its first football win in school history in sight.

Grayslake led 27-20 with just 3:49 left in the game. Harrington kept the ball on the option play and ran for 30 yards, and broke three tackles for a late lead.

But Lakes was not done. Facing third-and-26 Lakes quarterback Lakes quarterback Randy Ratajczyk focuses on the ball after a snap during the team's season opener against Grayslake North.

Randy Ratajczyk threw up an off-balance 42-yard pass to Brad Sanderson in the endzone to cut North's lead to 27-26. As Brent Gruber ran in for the two-point conversion, that was all the points the Eagles would need.

"I guess [Gruber] had a little more speed than the safeties and I saw him in the corner of the endzone," Ratajczyk said. "But for that field goal [at the end of the game], I was just standing on the sidelines and just praying and Williams blocked it."

As the Eagles escaped with a one-point victory, Lakes coach Luke Mertens was singing praise to Grayslake North.

"They [Grayslake North] played a great game tonight and it went down to the wire," Mertens said. "They really tested us. We came out initially very rattled. I don't know if it was because it's the first game, the big rivalry or anything else. We just had to catch our breath."

In the first half, the game was a back-and-forth battle from the very beginning. After a scoreless first quarter, both teams traded punches in the second half.

New coaches see their share of peaks, valleys

Grayslake Central's Rich Smith runs the ball past Antioch's Alex Fechauer as he lunges for a tackle during both schools' 2007 season opener at Grayslake Central.

Antioch wins its first football game since 2005

By DANIEL J. PATRICK
dpatrick@nwnewsgroup.com

GRAYSLAKE – Peaks and valleys can be an all-too-familiar feeling for football coaches. During the season opener in Grayslake, Grayslake Central coach Nick Goshe had a few too many valleys for his liking.

Goshe began his Grayslake Central coaching career with a 27-7 loss to Antioch. While the Rams were supposed to play in Antioch, the Sequoits rolled into Grayslake and won its first game since 2005.

The Rams basically set the one for the game in their first drive. Grayslake gained three first downs before it all went downhill. Rams quarterback Greg Bey's screen pass bounced off the back of a blocker and right into the hands of Antioch's Alex Fechauer. In just two plays, the Sequoits capitalized on the Grayslake turnover for an early 7-0 lead.

That wasn't the end of Grayslake Central's turnover problems. The Rams suffered through multiple redzone turnovers.

"Between the 20s our offense was pretty sweet," Goshe said. "We put up some good yardage, but that doesn't win ballgames. If you can't score in the red-zone, you're not going to win."

Central's offense was indeed efficient as the Rams racked up 285 yards in the game. Bey led his team with 39 yards on the ground, but gained 202 yards and a touchdown on 16-of-33 passing.

Bey had some valleys of his own. In the first half, Bey threw two interceptions and his most costly turnover came during a crucial drive in the beginning of the fourth quarter.

After Bey marched his offense down the field for 53 yards, Grayslake Central was knocking on the door at the 2-yard line. But Bey fumbled the snap that was recovered by Antioch defensive lineman Alec Paramski.

"That was the turnover that was a real momentum killer," Goshe said. "If we score that touchdown, the score's 27-14 and you're battling. But that fumble was very deflating and it's tough to try to get that momentum back, especially in the fourth quarter."

Meanwhile, the Sequoits had their own peaks and valleys, but the peaks were entirely too high for the Rams to climb. Early in the game, Antioch was able to find the endzone in two plays for its first score and it took all of one play – a 71-yard touchdown sprint for senior Dan Larsen – for the 14-0 lead. One valley came in the form of a 76-yard touchdown pass that was called back for an illegal motion penalty.

Brad Wisniewski - Wauconda

Bulldogs running back Brad Wisniewski is picking up where he left off last season. The senior tailback rushed for 139 yards and scored a touchdown against Huntley. Thanks to Wisniewski's efforts, Wauconda opened the season with a 27-13 win.

Turnovers costly for Rams in opener

• ANTIOCH

"They were just jacked up from the beginning and we were able to score quickly," Antioch coach Brian Glashagel said. "Between Dan Larsen, Cameron White and Steve Lorenzini, we were really able to run the ball on them all game long."

Glashagel's run-first offense racked up 259 yards on 43 carries led by Larsen with 106 yards and two touchdowns, and Lorenzini gaining 100 yards on 19 carries.

The Rams on the other hand garnered only 83 yards on 23 carries from their run game to go along with Bey's 202 passing yards.

Overall, Goshe said he was happy with his offense despite costly turnovers.

"Turnovers killed us. We just couldn't score in the redzone," Goshe said. "Three

Grayslake North, Lakes trade leads throughout season-opening game

With three minutes left in the first quarter, Grayslake North embarked on a 10-play, 60-yard scoring drive that ended in a 2-yard touchdown run off the legs of running back Robbie Nesbitt. After a Schroth field goal, North had the early 7-0 lead.

Lakes answered right back with a big 62-yard drive of their own that took 5:11 off the clock. But a missed kick preserved a 7-6 North lead.

Grayslake immediately set off on their own big scoring drive, this time, a 65-yard drive, capped off by a 24-yard touchdown run by Stephan Kalina. With a successful Felix Ramos kick, North had the 14-6 lead.

Once again, Lakes answered right back as kick returner Brent Gruber started the Eagles off on Grayslake's 49. Six plays and Graham Chawkeen's 2-point conversion later, the score was knotted at 14-14 with 1:01 left in the half.

With 11.4 seconds in the first half, Nesbitt broke off a huge 57-yard touchdown run that gave the Knights the 20-14 lead going into the locker room. But as fate would have it, the first half ended much like the game itself would as Williams broke through the line and blocked the field goal.

Hester scare a reminder

CHICAGO - Of all the sights seen Aug. 25 at Soldier Field, it was the one you wanted to see the least.

No, not Rex Grossman fumbling another snap.

The sight was Devin Hester lying on the ground, surrounded by medical personnel and concerned teammates. Ever see a crowd gawking at a sports car after it hit a light pole? The first-quarter scene with Hester looked a little like that.

Fortunately for the Bears, the special teams star got up sooner rather than later. Hester didn't return to the 31-28 Bears preseason win against San Francisco, but his bruised shoulder didn't force him to the locker room, either.

Within seconds, he was smiling. Within minutes, he was joking with teammates. Disaster apparently averted.

Still, it was a scary situation and another reminder of the worries that some have about Hester's increasing role with the offense. In addition to his responsibilities are the Bears putting him in a position to get hurt? Are they asking the golden goose to lay more eggs than he's capable of producing?

Given that the Bears played it extra cautious with the quick hook of Hester and that the damage seems minimal, maybe this qualifies as an overly sensitive reaction.

Nevertheless it remains important that Lovie Smith and the Bears treat Hester like the rare and precious commodity he is and continues to be. Finding new ways to utilize Hester shouldn't be a problem this season, so long as the staff remembers he possesses the most value to the team when he's standing under a kick - not sitting on the sidelines with his shoulder in a sling.

Because Muhsin Muhammad sat on the inactive list Saturday night, Hester got the opportunity to start at wide receiver. He didn't see the ball on the Bears' first drive, so when he trotted out for what turned out to be his only punt return of the night, he was greeted by a standing ovation from the fans in the south end zone. When the punt from Andy Lee sailed into the air, Soldier Field buzzed like it was a regular-season game and not the third preseason contest. Upon fielding the kick, Hester bumped into a teammate, then fought off two 49ers for a 29-yard gain to the Bears' 49-yard line.

The crowd, filled with many people wearing hot-selling Hester jerseys, showed its approval with a roar.

Then, after the most violent play in football, Hester stayed on the field. When the game resumed after a commercial, he took a 3-yard pass in the flat from Grossman and immediately was creamed by two San Francisco defenders. Two plays later, as Cedric Benson rushed right for a loss, Hester threw a downfield block at linebacker Parys Haralson. Apparently not using the right form, he stayed on the ground. His night was over.

When Muhammad returns to the lineup, it's unlikely Hester will be placed in such a demanding situation.

Nor should he be. While Hester's speed and agility can put Ron Turner in a giddy mood than a bride on her wedding day, there has to be some risk-reward examination when lining the fastest player in the game up on offense. You don't want to lose Hester's seven touchdowns from last season, nor do you want to lose the good field position he's going to hand Grossman and the offense.

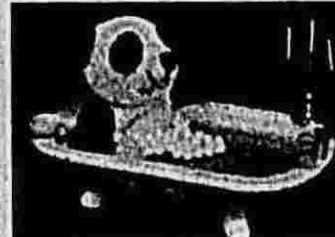

"There will be times he'll return it and we'll go right with him and there are times we won't," Turner said after the game. "We'll just have to get a feel for it."

There's no doubt Hester can be a valuable weapon on offense this season. Grossman said the Bears are holding back a package for the regular season and that Hester is "a big part of the plays we're holding back."

Still, as much as Hester can make it seem like he's a pigskin version of Superman, he has physical limitations like any other player. It might be difficult, but the Bears have to remember that.

Mold myths and facts

(NAPSA)-In a recent Ducker Worldwide Research survey, 86 percent of homeowners said that mold is a critical issue to them. Among 400 consumers surveyed, 74 percent said they have experienced indoor or outdoor moisture issues in their homes, while 44 percent said they have experienced mold problems. In a similar survey of builders and contractors, 43 percent ranked mold as the number one issue on their construction projects.

To help, the Responsible Solutions to Mold Coalition (RSMC) was formed through a grant by building materials leader USG Corporation. Its aim is to communicate science-based, accurate information on mold. RSMC is an industrywide coalition of building industry associations, companies, and government and academic organizations.

The coalition's key message is that if you control moisture, you'll control mold. While mold-resistant products can play an important role, unless they are installed properly as part of good building practices, mold can become a problem.

Consider these myths and facts:

Myth #1: Mold grows only on paper, wood and other organic materials.

Facts: Mold will grow on any surface, including glass, fiberglass and even steel. Mold needs three things to grow: 1) mold spores, which are always in the air; 2) moisture; and 3) a food source, which can be as simple as household dust. Houses are constructed using a wide variety of organic materials; as a result, the only effective strategy to control mold is to control moisture.

Myth #2: Mold can be eliminated.

Facts: Only "clean room" technologies which are too expensive and unnecessary for the home or office can eliminate mold spores. The one thing you can control is moisture. We all benefit from some molds, including the species that led to the development of penicillin. Mold plays a critical role in the processing of natural wastes such as leaves, grass and branches, turning them into topsoil.

Myth #3: Mold is the only moisture control issue of concern.

Facts: While excessive moisture causes mold, it also fosters the growth of dust mites and bacteria, as well as attracts cockroaches and rodents. Moisture will ultimately damage finishes and otherwise shorten the useful life of any building. So not only does excessive moisture make a building less comfortable, it will ultimately diminish the building's value.

Myth #4: Only experts can clean mold.

Facts: Homeowners can clean small patches of mold using household detergents and warm water. Scrub any mold patch vigorously in order to remove mold spores that otherwise would remain and foster future mold outbreaks. After cleaning, rinsing and drying the spot where mold has grown, discard any rubber gloves and cleaning cloths used in the process. Larger patches of mold may need to be eliminated by trained professionals.

Myth #5: Once mold starts, it will always be present.

Facts: Mold can be stopped in its tracks, but only if moisture is minimized or eliminated. Consequently, leaks should be corrected as soon as they become apparent. Building experts urge homeowners to be aware of some of the telltale signs of mold, which include dampness, odors, discoloration, peeling paint, condensation, compacted insulation and actual mold outbreaks.

For more information on controlling moisture and mold, visit the organization's Web site at www.responsible-moldsolutions.org.

Bright ideas for kitchens

Lighter and brighter. That's a winning combination in most rooms but in the kitchen it's a slam dunk.

Experts say to lighten cabinets, countertops, walls and floors and you're halfway there. Add skylights to fill the room with healthful natural light, plus more ventilation, and you've economically upgraded one of the most used areas of your home. And skylights don't take up wall space like vertical windows, so you have more space for shelves or cabinets or for decorating.

Light from above makes all rooms more functional and livable. But kitchens are especially enjoyable for family and guests when they are bright, cheerful, and free of cooking odors, heat and humidity. Venting skylights in the kitchen release hot air, moisture, and odors while admitting additional light for more pleasant cooking, dining and entertaining.

Skylights, along with accessories including blinds and shades, can be controlled manually or by remote control with the touch of a button. Electrochromic glass is also now available in skylights.

This new technology allows homeowners to lighten and darken the glass with the touch of a remote and the view of the sky is never lost.

The trend toward additional daylighting in kitchens is driven not only by homeowner desires for bright, open, energy-efficient spaces, but also by health considerations.

Adding more natural light to the kitchen, where families tend to gather much of the time for studying and socializing in addition to dining, has many health benefits. Studies show that Seasonal Affective Disorder (SAD), evidenced by emotional depression, a drop in physical energy, increased appetite, and need for more sleep, is directly linked to a lack of sufficient daylight. Also, we need vitamin D for calcium to be absorbed by the body to strengthen teeth, bones and tissue to maintain a healthy skeleton throughout life.

Research shows that two sources of vitamin D are diet and sunlight, and in healthy human bodies, 80 percent of vitamin D is produced in the skin when it is exposed to natural light.

Slipcovers offer instant room redo

There are many reasons to use slipcovers in your home. Perhaps you've just moved, and your current sofa set doesn't quite match the new color scheme. Maybe you've just had a baby and you want to protect your furniture from wear and tear. Or you like the versatility of being able to change the look of a room on a whim. Whatever the reason, here are some handy tips when considering slipcovers.

Slipcover styles

Slipcovers come in different types, varying by fit and price, color and pattern. The most basic is a loose-fitting cover that can be tossed over the sofa to cover it. There is little tucking required, or shape to this type of slipcover. Typically, this is an inexpensive find carried by most major department stores.

The next grade of slipcover is one that is more fitted. It might be constructed with elastic around the base skirt, and it will probably be a little more tailored to fit the shape of a sofa. It will not be a custom-fit—you'll still have to do your share of tucking and adjusting to achieve a look that closely resembles an upholstered sofa—but it will be appealing to the eye. Select department stores carry fitted slipcovers as well as specialty interior design shops.

Custom-designed slipcovers are the priciest of the bunch. Here, your sofa is measured by a representative from the slipcover manufacturer, interior designer or furniture store, and a slipcover is manufactured to the exact specifications.

Oftentimes, matching pillow covers are included as well. This option gives you a look that most resembles an upholstered sofa, with the convenience of a cover that can in many cases be removed and laundered.

Fit tips

Each slipcover manufacturer will offer guidelines on choosing one that is the right size. They will probably carry standard sizes, such as recliner, large chair, love seat and sofa. Follow the manufacturers' directions for measuring across the width of your furniture to determine the cover that will be the closest fit. Some other ways to achieve a proper fit include:

• Tucking trouble — If your sofa is void of a suitable tucking area, meaning there is no crease between the sofa back and the arms, create neat pleats in the slipcover, by folding over sections, and then tuck as usual into where the bottom cushions meet the seat back.

• Thin arms — Beef up the arms of your sofa with some upholstery batting from a fabric supply store or craft center to fill out your slipcover. Most slipcovers are designed to accommodate the thick arms of today's sofa styles.

• Slipping and sliding — If you are placing a slipcover over a leather or vinyl sofa, it may slide around a bit. Use nonskid strips, similar to those used under area rugs, placed directly on the sofa before you put on your slipcover to keep things in place.

• Techniques for tucking — Use a wooden spoon to tuck into hard-to-reach areas. In addition, use a magazine rolled up and secured with a rubber band or specially-designed foam tubes sold at stores that carry slipcovers. They often may also be ordered directly from slipcover manufacturers. Consult with the store for more information.

• Wrinkle reducer — To take care of wrinkles, throw the slipcover in the dryer with a damp towel for a few minutes. Just check the cleaning and care tag first to make sure the dryer won't damage the fabric. In many cases, the dryer can also be used to shrink the slipcover to ensure a better fit.

Slipcover fabrics

There are many fabrics and styles used today for pre-made slipcovers. They're designed to be durable and easy to care for. It is easy to locate a cover that will work for your particular design scheme. Here are some common fabrics and their wearability:

• Cotton Blends: Fiber contents vary. Easy-care, lightweight fabric that drapes beautifully. Fabric becomes softer after just one washing. Wrinkle-resistant — remove promptly from the dryer and it needs no ironing.

• Cotton Duck: 100 percent cotton. A medium-weight cloth, cotton duck is soft, breathable and durable. It is a wonderful, year-round fabric that retains color beautifully. Machine washable. Perfect for easy decorating.

• Damask: Cotton/polyester blend. A traditional weave with an elegant and luxurious texture. Machine washable.

• Denim: 100 percent cotton. One of the most durable fabrics in a twill weave, pre-washed for extra softness. Machine washable.

• Olefin Blends: Fiber contents vary. Olefin is a favorite upholstery fabric because it is strong, lightweight, stain-resistant, and colorfast. The blending of Olefin with polyester, cotton and acrylic fibers creates machine-washable slipcovers perfect for everyday family life.

• Suede Look: 100 percent polyester. This cloth is characterized by a soft, napped surface. It drapes beautifully and is machine washable.

Why Do Thermal Pane Windows Fail?

All Windows eventually fail; the best day a window ever had was the day it was made. Poor caulking, rotting frames, house settling, improper installation... there are many reasons why windows fail, but the main cause of window seal failure is a process known as "solar pumping."

Most people don't realize that windows are not completely airtight—if they were, they'd explode! When sunshine hits a window the air inside heats up significantly, (think of a car on a hot day!) causing the window to expand and pushing air out through the semi-permeable seals. In the evening, the window cools and contracts, drawing air—and humidity—with it. Day after day, year after year, this cyclical expansion and contraction occurs, stressing the window seals.

Manufacturers expect and plan for solar pumping. Built into every window frame is silica desiccant to absorb the small amounts of moisture inevitably drawn into the window. The desiccant, however, has a limited lifespan. At some point it has absorbed all the moisture it can hold and that is the day a hazy, misty fog clouds your window. From this point on the window begins deteriorating rapidly. If left untreated, the trapped, silica-laden moisture quickly corrodes the inner glass surfaces, eventually leaving mineral deposits and a permanent white silica haze. Once this has occurred the window is no longer repairable.

So don't delay! The moment you see haze, fog or condensation inside your thermal pane windows, call for a free evaluation. The longer you wait, the less chance we have for a successful repair!
